Concept/USP – Formnext is NOT another 3D Printing show!

Formnext is the leading exhibition for additive manufacturing and the next generation of intelligent industrial manufacturing solutions. It focuses on the efficient realization of parts and products, from their design to serial production.

Formnext is open for all materials and focuses on the whole process of industrial manufacturing using AM technologies.

Formnext pays special attention to education, best-practice-showcases and know-how-transfer to deliver the best possible content how user industries can benefit from Additive Manufacturing.

We show the future of innovative manufacturing!
